

Concours to Barn Stored Bikes at Charterhouse Classic Motorcycle Auction

The Charterhouse auction of classic and vintage motorcycles at The Netley Marsh Motorcycle Eurojumble on Friday 2nd September has a broad range of bikes of all ages and to suit pockets of all sizes.

“It never ceases to amaze me where all the motorcycles come from – in this sale we have been instructed to sell collections of bikes not only from the West Country but also well into Wales, across into Canterbury and up to Cumbria,” commented Matthew Whitney. “Both the classic motorcycle and classic car markets remain buoyant being helped along by low interest rates on saving accounts which has tempted many a buyer to relive their youth or their dreams.”

The earliest motorcycle in the auction is a recently recommissioned 1914 Alldays & Onions pioneer motorcycle estimated at £8,000-£12,000.

Fifteen years its younger is a 1929 AJS M1 motorcycle with a 996cc V-twin engine from long term ownership, estimated at £20,000-£25,000.
