PRESS RELEASE

Pirates - Mon 13 to Fri 17 Feb

“Hells Bells ‘n Buckets of Blood”

Pirates are coming this half term to the Fleet Air Arm Museum.

Every day from Monday 13 to Friday 17 Feb there will be some fearsome family activities. Children are encouraged to come in fancy dress. They'll be shown how to draw a pirate map in 'blood' using a quill pen and make a variety of Pirate accessories including telescopes, hats, eye patches and pirate maps.

Cap'n Jack Sparrow lookalike and his scurvy shipmates will put on a stage show and sing-a-long and there'll be lessons in learning how to live and speak like a pirate!

Normal Museum admission prices apply and there is no additional cost for the activities. Doors open at 10.00am.
