

West Country Wine Cellar Comes to Charterhouse

The contents of a wine cellar from a country house is being sold by Charterhouse in Sherborne on Tuesday 3rd December.

“There are great wines from some of the best French wine producers,” commented Richard Bromell. “Most were bought new either direct from the chateau or from an importer and are in great condition.”

There are hundreds of bottles, mostly in their original wooden cases. The cellar was purpose built by the owner to store his wine and port in at a perfect temperature and in perfect humidity.

There is wine from Chateau Talbot, Lafite Rothschild, Margaux, Latour, Palmer, d’Yquem, Canon, Beychevelle and many others along with vintage port. Perfect for celebrating Christmas or to see in the New Year, to give as presents or even to lay down for future years, there are lots estimated from £50 to £3,000 with the cellar contents valued overall at £70,000.

Single bottles of Chateau d’Yquem 1966 £100-£200 per bottle
